

Economy Chief Note of Miller Campaign Book

Text for Republican Workers Cites '16 Big Things' Accomplished by N. Y. State Administration

Compared With Tammany

More Done at Albany and More Money Left Than Ever Before, It Declares

The Republican State Committee issued yesterday a twenty-eight page campaign booklet entitled, "Courage to Dare and Brains to Do," describing the achievements of the Miller administration. The booklet carries six tables setting forth succinctly the money saved by the economies effected in the last twenty months.

Starting with coal, the document calls attention to sixteen "big things" done by the Miller administration. The first being 1. Coal situation met. 2. Barge canal deepened. 3. Transit problems solved. 4. Disabled soldiers cared for. 5. Direct state tax cut in two. 6. School appropriations doubled. 7. Highway construction doubled. 8. State pay rolls cut 10 per cent. 9. Workmen's compensation facilitated. 10. State appropriations cut $10,000,000. 11. New York Port Authority established. 12. Water power development undertaken. 13. Vehicular tunnel to New Jersey building. 14. Forty-one million dollars surplus in the state treasury. 15. Farming and farm life made more profitable and attractive. 16. More welfare legislation passed than ever before in the history of the state.

Five pages are given over to the finances of the state, starting with the caption, "Economy versus Extravagance," and pointing out the fact that in the history of New York State has so much been accomplished requiring the paying out of state funds, while at the same time so much remains in the state treasury. Some of the strong comments are:

"Shall the state treasury be turned over to the people who are now running the finances of New York City? In spite of falling revenues, due to business depression, the treasury surplus has been increased $10,000,000 and the money was on hand to meet the cost situation when the state was suddenly confronted by the danger of a coal famine. Nor has the money been saved by a pennywise policy in relation to state enterprises and state institutions."

"The school money apportioned to the counties was increased from $2,000,000 in 1920 under Governor Smith to $2,200,000 in 1921 and $2,400,000 in 1922 under Governor Miller. The direct state tax has been cut from $13,000,523.91 under Governor Smith in 1920 to $12,349,343.66 in 1921 and $10,576,000.26 in 1922 under Governor Miller."

Under the caption "The Contrast" the book handles the recent administration of the finances of New York City without gloves. It says, after setting forth the condition of state affairs:

"A contrast to this picture is found in the administration of New York City. It is well to study it, for it is the crowd that is now running New York City that wants to get hold of the state treasury. The increase in the New York City budget in 1921 and 1922, reaching $129,041,556.50, was nearly equal to the total annual expenditure of the state. Yet the state turned over to New York City in 1920 and 1921 $40,128,230.55 as its share of income, motor, mortgage and corporation tax and school money."

"This princely gift from the state to the city has merely served to encourage the riotous extravagances of the city administration. In spite of this assistance, the city has reached the constitutional limit of taxation and is running in debt for current expenses. The city's total appropriations for 'debt service' aggregate over one hundred millions a year. Since its foundation the greater New York has been running its debt at the rate of $35,000,000 a year, or about $100,000 a day."

Under "New York City's Docks" it is charged that through the nefarious Tammany system the city's annual loss on dock properties is $11,000,000.

More Women's Clubs Indorse

Miss Jones for School Post

The Wall Street Women's Club and the Portia Club have joined the long list of women's societies indorsing Miss Olive M. Jones for Associate Secretary created by the state to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mrs. Grace Strachan Forsythe. The Portia Club, of which Mrs. Edward Allen Albright is president, unanimously selected Miss Jones as a fitting candidate for the position.

Among the other clubs working for the appointment of Miss Jones are the (National) Women, the Women's Municipal League, the Queens Big Sisters, the Parents' League of Public School 3, Brooklyn; the New York Theater Club, the Mozart Society, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Continental Chapter, and others.

This Bride to Wear Green Check Knickers

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 1. —Knickers of checkered green, augmented by a cape and brown sport hat, will comprise the trousseau of Mrs. Evelyn M. Phillips, of Newark, N. J., who is to be married on Wednesday morning to Frank Keables Kretz, son of Mrs. Oliver E. Kretz, of this city. Mr. Kretz also will wear knickers. The wedding will be private.

Republicans Pleased Says Adams. Citing Vote in Primaries

Only 14 of 259 Members of Congress Defeated for Renomination and Four Named for Senate

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. —Republican National Chairman John T. Adams, in a statement made public to-night, reviews the primary results with reference to Senators and House members, and says these results show that Republicans, generally, are satisfied with the work of the Republican majority in Congress.

Mr. Adams's statement is intended to reply to the numerous Democratic attacks on the record of Congress and assertions that the country is displeased with the Republican record in Congress.

"With the exception of Rhode Island," says Mr. Adams, "the primary elections for selection of candidates for the United States Senate and House of Representatives are complete. The results clearly show that the rank and file of the Republican party are satisfied with the work and personnel of the Republican majority in the present Congress."

"The present Republican membership in the House of Representatives is 259. Of these, 259 entered the primaries in their respective districts for renomination. Only fourteen out of all this number were defeated. This is less than 5 per cent of the total number who by entering the primaries asked for an indorsement of their record. It may be stated that where present incumbents were defeated the causes which contributed to their defeat were local. Illinois contributed two to the list of Republican Congressmen defeated for renomination, Kansas one, Missouri one, New Jersey two, New Mexico one, New York one, Oklahoma one, Pennsylvania four and Wisconsin one."

"Four Republican incumbents of the House did not seek renomination as Representatives, but asked for and received the nomination of their party as candidates for the United States Senate. These were Congressman Mondell, of Wyoming; Congressman Riddick, of Montana; Congressman Fess, of Ohio, and Congressman Green, of Vermont."

Under the caption "The Contrast" the book handles the recent administration of the finances of New York City without gloves. It says, after setting forth the condition of state affairs:

"A contrast to this picture is found in the administration of New York City. It is well to study it, for it is the crowd that is now running New York City that wants to get hold of the state treasury. The increase in the New York City budget in 1921 and 1922, reaching $129,041,556.50, was nearly equal to the total annual expenditure of the state. Yet the state turned over to New York City in 1920 and 1921 $40,128,230.55 as its share of income, motor, mortgage and corporation tax and school money."

Under "New York City's Docks" it is charged that through the nefarious Tammany system the city's annual loss on dock properties is $11,000,000.

"This princely gift from the state to the city has merely served to encourage the riotous extravagances of the city administration. In spite of this assistance, the city has reached the constitutional limit of taxation and is running in debt for current expenses. The city's total appropriations for 'debt service' aggregate over one hundred millions a year. Since its foundation the greater New York has been running its debt at the rate of $35,000,000 a year, or about $100,000 a day."

Under "New York City's Docks" it is charged that through the nefarious Tammany system the city's annual loss on dock properties is $11,000,000.

More Women's Clubs Indorse

Miss Jones for School Post

The Wall Street Women's Club and the Portia Club have joined the long list of women's societies indorsing Miss Olive M. Jones for Associate Secretary created by the state to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mrs. Grace Strachan Forsythe. The Portia Club, of which Mrs. Edward Allen Albright is president, unanimously selected Miss Jones as a fitting candidate for the position.

Among the other clubs working for the appointment of Miss Jones are the (National) Women, the Women's Municipal League, the Queens Big Sisters, the Parents' League of Public School 3, Brooklyn; the New York Theater Club, the Mozart Society, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Continental Chapter, and others.

The volume of conveyances of 1833, now preserved in the archives of the Hall of Records.

Once upon a time

Covered with the dust of 89 years, dog-eared and ragged, a musty old volume has been found in the Hall of Records which gives convincing evidence of the enormous increase of land values in New York and of the stability of the Chemical Bank.

On a page, yellowed with age, is recorded the sale of the very plot on which the Convention of the American Bankers Association is now being held. The price—in 1833—was $9,353.08. And the Court, under which the sale was held, specifically directs that the money be deposited in the Chemical Bank "for the safety of the title holder."

and Now

This plot on which stands the Commodore Hotel is assessed at $9,500,000.

The realty of Manhattan Island, assessed at slightly more than 50 millions in 1824, when the Chemical Bank was founded, has increased to more than 6,000 millions.

In every stage of New York's development "Old Bullion," as the Chemical is historically called, has so conducted its affairs as to justify the confidence it won in the old days.

Seeking New Business on Our Record

THE CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK OF NEW YORK

Founded 1824

BROADWAY AND CHAMBERS, FACING CITY HALL

Hotel Commodore
42nd Street and
Pershing Square

An amendment to your constitution

INVESTIGATE the food value of milk, if you wish. Take the verdict of expert dietitians; then make an amendment that henceforth you will drink a quart a day.

This is upholding your constitution in the best possible way.

DAIRYMEN'S
League

CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION, INC.
General Offices: Utica, N. Y.
New York City Executive Office: 363 Fifth Avenue
545 E. 19th St. Branches: 525 W. 40th St. 129 E. 121st St.
Newark: Waverly Ave. & Somerset St.